Reubin McLeroy was the 4th son of William McElroy. He also changed the spelling of his name. He was an ordained Minister. He was born in 1759 in Johnson County (now Wake County) NC. He also served as a private in the Revolutionary War. It is interesting to note that he and his Father (William) both served in this War.

Reubin moved to Oglethorpe County, Georgia about 1784. Apparently he lived in Clarke County, Georgia for a while as he and his wife, Christiana, were at one time members of Mars Hill Baptist Church. He died in 1820 in Jones County, Georgia.

His wife, Christiana, was 92 years of age when she filed for his Revolutionary War pension in Harris County Georgia in 1851. The pension, $40 per annum was granted July 8, 1851. Her date of death is not known.

Reubin was the great grandfather of James Lewis McLeroy.

Francis Marion McLeroy and Lucinda Eidson McLeroy were the parents of the James Lewis McLeroy and 9 other children listed on the next page. He was a Primitive Baptist Minister at the Mount Zion Baptist Church in Clarke County Georgia. His first marriage to Sarah Jane Wise was of short duration, she having died after they had been married less than three months. She is buried at Mars Hill Baptist Church Cemetery in Clarke County Georgia. At one time there was an inscription over her grave which read "Thus in the early morn of life, in all the charms of youthful bloom, a lovely daughter, sister, wife, is here consigned to the cold tomb".
